

Cable Gland Accessories

SHROUDS

Shrouds are fitted over cable glands to give additional environmental and corrosion protection.

Standard material is black PVC with EPDM as optional.

LOCKNUTS

Locknuts are used to secure cable glands into equipments.

Standard material is brass with nickel plating as optional.

Stainless steel and aluminium locknuts are also available.

EARTH TAGS

Brass Earth tags, installed between cable gland and equipment, provide an earth bond connection as specified in BS 6121 : Part 5.

Cable Gland Accessories

SEALING WASHERS

Sealing washers are used with cable glands, adaptors ... entry thread to maintain or improve the ingress protection rating of the enclosure. Produced from 1.5 or 2 mm thick white Nylon, depending on the size, as standard. Red fiber washers are supplied as optional.

SERRATED WASHERS

Serrated washers are used on components entry thread, such as cable glands, locknuts ... to dampen vibration effects which may loosen the component.

Available materials plated steel or stainless steel.

